INDEX TO VOL. XIII.

AMBERLEY'S, LORD, ANALYSIS OF RELIGIOUS BELIEF, 509.
BERNARDINO TOMMASINI (OCHINO), 532.
CENTRAL IDEAS OF SEMITIC AND ARYAN FAITH, THE, 104.
DALE ON THE ATONEMENT, 17.
FREE WILL AND RESPONSIBILITY, 366.
GRAY, BISHOP, LIFE OF, 70.
HEINRICH HEINE, 174.
HILGENFELD'S INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT—II., 1.
HOOK'S LAUD, 83.
JEWS IN ENGLAND, THE, 413.
LIBERAL PREACHER OF THE SOUTH OF FRANCE, A, 153.
METHODISM SINCE WESLEY—II., 45.
MISCELLANEA THEOLOGICA, 296, 561.
MONOTHEISM IN ISRAEL, THE NATURE AND DEVELOPMENT OF, 486.
NORMAN MACLEOD, 274.
NOTICES OF BOOKS, 126, 306, 442, 573.
PHILOSOPHY WITHOUT ASSUMPTIONS, 226.
RANGE OF CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP, THE, 499.
SCHOPENHAUER, 395.
SHAKSPEARE, THE RELIGION OF, 459.
SUMMARY OF ECCLESIASTICAL EVENTS, 119, 302, 566.
TAYLER'S RETROSPECT OF THE RELIGIOUS LIFE OF ENGLAND, 201.
WOMEN, THEIR FITNESS FOR THE MINISTRY, 239.
YAHVEH AND THE "OTHER GODS," 329.

Airy, Sir G. B., "Notes on the Earlier Hebrew Scriptures," noticed, 573.
AMBERLEY'S, LORD, ANALYSIS OF RELIGIOUS BELIEF, 509. Lady Russell's Introduction, 509. Lord Amberley's early faith, 510. Passed from Deism to Agnosticism, 511. First part of his book, 512. Author's inability to distinguish genuine from spurious religious phenomena, 513. His treatment of priesthoods, 515. Christian priests, 516. Inspiration leads to infallibility, 517. Biographies of great religious teachers, 518. Inadequate treatment of Hebrew history, 519. Passages from Oriental Scriptures, 520. Second part of the book, 521. A hyperphysical power in the universe, 522. A hyperphysical entity in man, 522. Relation between the two, 525. Lord Amberley stops short of pronounced Theism, 527. His mistaken view of inspiration, 528. Positive element in all great religions, 530.
Amberley, Lord, "An Analysis of Religious Belief," reviewed, 509.
Anderson, Charles, M.A., "New Readings of Old Parables," noticed, 317.
Anderson, W., LL.D., "Re-union in the Heavenly Kingdom," noticed, 458.
Arnold, Matthew, "God and the Bible," noticed, 134.

Ashworth, "Account of the Rise and Progress of Unitarianism in Rossendale," reviewed, 45.

Beard, Charles, B.A., author of article, "Heinrich Heine," 174.
Benrath, K., "Bernardino Ochino von Siena," reviewed, 532.
Bernardino Tommasini (Ochino), 532. His portrait, 532. Birth and name, 533. Sienna, 534. Ochino becomes a Franciscan monk, 536. Then a Capuchin, 537. Success as a preacher, 538. Relations with Rome, 539. Juan de Valdés, 540. Ochino at Naples, 541. Dialogi Sette, 542. Death of Valdés, 544. Ochino in Venice and Verona, 545. Flies from Italy, 546. In Geneva, 548. In England, 549. At Zürich, 551. Influence upon him of Lelio Sozini, 553. Ochino not anti-trinitarian though Socinian, 555. His dialogue, "De Polygamia," 557. Expelled from Zürich, 559. Death in Moravia, 560.
"Bibliographer's Miscellany," reviewed, 45.
Biedermann, A. E., "Heinrich Lang," noticed, 587.
Binns, W., author of article, "Methodism since Wesley," II. 45.
Bouzique, E. U., "History of Christianity," Vol. II., translated by Dr. Beard, noticed, 148. Vol. III., 323.
"Bunting, Jabez, Life of," reviewed, 45.
Burgess, W. R., "Exsurgat Deus," noticed, 132.
Butler, G. W., M.A., "The Book of the Generation of Jesus Christ," noticed, 149.
Byles, Sir J. B., "Foundations of Religion in the Mind and Heart of Man," noticed, 144.

Call, W. M. W., M.A., "Reverberations," noticed, 327.
C. B. U., author of notices of books, 448.
Central Ideas of Semitic and of Aryan Faith, 104. The Vatican Decrees and their effect within and without the Catholic Church, 104. Sacerdotal movement in England, 106. Is the doctrine of Paul in accord with Nicene or Tridentine theology? 107. Paul's idea of the Messiah, 108. Son of God, and God the Son, 109. The former idea not inconsistent with Jewish doctrine, 110. Jewish and Mohammedan monotheism, 112. Aryan conception of the relation of man to God, 115. Incarnation an Aryan idea, 116. Incarnations of Vishnoo, 116. Conclusion, 118.
Chew, "Life of J. Everett," reviewed, 45.
Church of England Sunday-School Institute Publications, noticed, 148.
Church Quarterly Review, No. I., noticed, 146.
Clarke, Adam, "Commentary," reviewed, 45.
Cobbe, Frances Power, author of article, "The Fitness of Women for the Ministry," 239.
Coleti "Johannis Opuscula quædam Theologica," edited by H. J. Lupton, M.A., noticed, 457.
Conder, F. R., author of article, "The Central Ideas of Semitic and of Aryan Faith," 104.
Cooke, "Methodism condemned by Methodist Preachers," reviewed, 45.
Cox, G. W., M.A., author of articles, "Philosophy without Assumptions," 226. "The Range of Christian Fellowship," 499.
"Credentials of Christianity, the," noticed, 326.
Crosskey, H. W., "The Religious Worth and Glory of Scientific Research," noticed, 149.

Dale on the Atonement, 17. Comparison of the book with Gilbert's, 17. Necessity of new treatment of the subject, 18. The fact of the Atonement, 19. Distinction between Fact and Theory, 20. Not adhered to, 21. Objective ground of the Atonement, 24. Mr. Dale's treatment of Scripture evidence, 26. Assumption, 26. Conjecture, 27. Illustration, 30. Moral theory of the Atonement, 30. Other theories, 32. Remission of sins, 35. Mr. Dale's views as to Satisfaction and Substitution not distinctly stated, 37. Idea of a God suffering for human sin, 40. Confusion involved in the idea, 42. Conclusion, 44.

Dale, R. W., M.A., "The Atonement," reviewed, 17.

D'Aubigné, "History of the Reformation in Europe in the Time of Calvin," noticed, 592.

Drummond, James, B.A., author of notices of books, 306.

Dunn, H., "The Limitations of Christian Responsibility," noticed, 148.

E. M. G., author of notices of books, 317.

Ewald, Dr. G. H. A., "Commentary on Joel, Amos, Hosea and Zachariah," translated by J. F. Smith, noticed, 456. "Antiquities of Israel," translated by H. S. Solly, M.A., noticed, 458.

Fenton, John, author of "Miscellanea Theolgica," 299.

Free Will and Responsibility, 366. Necessity of human action must be consistent with responsibility, 366. Case of a self-acting murderer's knife, 367. What is the justification of blame? 368. Influence of heredity, 369. Diseased abnormal cases, 370. A privilege to be praise or blame-worthy, 371. Strong temptations, 373. Rationale of duty, 374. Moral necessity does not excuse a man, 376. True notion of free will, 378. Relation of will to motives, 379. Dr. Carpenter's theory of will, 381. Mr. Sidgwick's argument for free will, 382. Conflicting motives, 383. Doctrine of determinism does not make man a machine, 387. Are good and evil relative or absolute? 389. Standard to be raised as humanity develops, 390. Evil necessary to existence of good, 391. Conclusion, 392.

"Friendly Suggestions in respect to Absolution in the Church of England," noticed, 149.

Gordon, John, author of article, "Dale on the Atonement," 17—of notices of books, 446.

Gordon, J., "The Good and Faithful Servant," noticed, 328.

Gordon, Alx., M.A., author of articles, "Hook's Laud," 83. "Bernardino Tommasini (Ochino)," 532.

Gorman, T. M., M.A., "Christian Psychology, translated from Swedenborg," noticed, 317.

Gleig, G. R., M.A., "The Great Problem: Can it be solved?" reviewed, 499.

Gray, Bishop, Life of, 70. Want of proportion in the book, 70. The Bishop's prayerfulness, 71. Birth, education, settlement in the Church, 72. Marriage and early clerical life, 73. Vicar of Stockton, 74. Bishop of Capetown, 74. Hard work, 75. Division of diocese, 75. Differences with Bishop Colenso, 76. With Mr. Long, 77. Trial and deposition of Bishop Colenso, 79. Should Colenso have stayed in the Church? 80. Conclusion, 82.

Gray, C., M.A., "Life of Robert Gray," &c., reviewed, 70.

Hanson, Sir R. D., "The Apostle Paul and his Preaching in the Primitive Church," noticed, 311.

XUM

Heinrich Heine, 174. General characterization of Heine, 175. Stigand's Life, 176. Strodtmann's, 177. Birth and family, 177. Education—Bonn—Göttingen, 178. Berlin, 179. Doctor of Laws at Göttingen, 180. Baptism, 180. Reisebilder, 181. His publisher Campe, 182. Buch der Lieder, 182. Italian journey, 183. Paris, 184. His life there, 185. Relations with his uncle, 185. Quarrel with his cousin, 186. Long illness, 186. Death, 189. His lyrics, 189. Their wonderful melody, 190. Prevailing impulse of mockery, 190. Prose writings, 191. Want of love, 192. Jewish element, 193. Admiration of Napoleon, 195. Dislike of England, 196. Religious opinions, 197. Preface to Romancero, 198. Conclusion, 200.

Heine, H., "Sämmtliche Werke," reviewed, 174.

Hilgenfeld's Introduction to the New Testament—II., 1. Qualifications of the author, 2. Tübingen school and the Tendenz-Kritik, 3. Its application to the New Testament, 5. Hilgenfeld's long studies, 8. Section on "The separate Writings of the New Testament," 9. Sections on the "Canon" and the "Text," 9. First period of New Testament literature divided into three sections, 10. First, 10. Second, 11. Third, 12. Second or post-apostolic period, 13. General estimate of the work, 15.

Hilgenfeld, Dr. Adolf, "Historisch-Kritische Einleitung in das Neue Testament," reviewed, 1.

Hook's Laud, 83. Dean Hook's style well adapted to Laud, 84. Book somewhat dry in its adherence to fact, 84. Picturesque incidents in Laud's life, 86. Character of Dr. Hook's mind, 87. His historical fairness, 89. Sees both sides of a character, 90. Element of greatness in Laud, 91. His methodical habits, 92. Matter-of-fact piety, 93. Secret of Laud's ascendancy, 93. His conduct to foreign churches in the East of England, 95. Walloon church of Norwich, 96. Laud's Anglicanism, 101. Legal despotism, 101. Dr. Tait's baptism, 102. Hook a born Bishop, 103.

Hook, W. F., D.D., "Lives of the Archbishops of Canterbury," New Series, Vol. VI., reviewed, 83.

Hort, Dr. F. J. A., "Two Dissertations," noticed, 306.

Howard, J. E., F.R.S., "An Examination of the Belfast Address of the British Association," noticed, 149.

Hughes, T., "The Economy of Thought," noticed, 317.

H. W. C., author of notices of books, 139.

Jackson, W., M.A., "The Doctrine of Retribution: Bampton Lectures," noticed, 315.

Jelf, W. E., D.D., "Ritualism, Romanism, and the English Reformation," noticed, 455.

Jenner, Stephen, M.A., "Quicksands," noticed, 317.

Jennings, A. C., and W. H. Lowe, "The Psalms," noticed, 132.

Jews in England, the, 413. History of Jews in England divided into two periods, 413. First period, 414. Second period, 417. Return to England in 1656, 417. Menasseh ben Israel, 418. Personal history of Jewish families, 421. Sampson Gideon, Isaac D'Israeli, 422. Montefiore, Goldsmid, 424. Omission by Mr. Picciotto of Zedner and Deutsch, 425. Social and political history, 426. Spanish and Polish communities, 427. Jewish Board of Deputies, 428. Anglo-Jewish Association, 429. Organizations for relief and education of the poor, 430. Religious history, 433. Rabbinical Judaism in England, 434.

Reforms and secessions, 437. Schism in London, 438. Differences between old and new congregations, 439. Mr. Picciotto's imperfections of style, 441.
J. H. T., author of notices of books, 126.
Jones, R. C., "Psalms and Canticles," noticed, 327.
J. R., author of notices of books, 311, 315.

K., author of Miscellanea Theologica, 296, 561. Of notices of books, 442.
Kaspary, J., "Natural Laws, or the Infallible Criterion," noticed, 589.
Kenny, C. S., "Prize Essay on the Disuse of the Athanasian Creed," noticed, 325.
Kirkman, T. P., M.A., "Philosophy without Assumptions," reviewed, 226.
KUENEN, A., D.D., author of article, "Yahveh and the other gods," 329.
Kuenen, Dr. A., "The Religion of Israel to the Fall of the Jewish State," translated by A. H. May, noticed, 144.

Lamson, A., D.D., "The Church of the Three First Centuries," noticed, 325.
Leonard, W. A., "Hindu Thought, and other Essays," noticed, 317.
LIBERAL PREACHER, A, OF THE SOUTH OF FRANCE, 153. Influence of Pellissier in the South of France, 153. His birth and education, 154. Studies law, 155. His uncle and aunt, 156. Leaves the bar and marries, 157. Opposition to Lacordaire, 158. Devotes himself to the ministry, 159. Pellissier and Monod, 160. Minister at Bordeaux, 161. Protestantism in the South of France, 161. Obstacles in his way at Bordeaux, 163. Illness and death, 164. The liberty of Protestantism its attraction for Pellissier, 165. His method of preaching, 168. The extemporaneous character of his mind, 172. A prophet of the nineteenth century, 173.

Macleod, Donald, B.A., "Life of Norman Macleod," reviewed, 274.
MAGNUS, PHILIP, B.A., author of article, "The Jews in England," 413.
Martin, Sir W., "Inquiries concerning the Structure of the Semitic Language," Part I., noticed, 573.
Martineau, R., M.A., author of notices of books, 132, 573.
Mellor, E., D.D., "The Priesthood in the Light of the New Testament," noticed, 446.
METHODISM SINCE WESLEY—II., 45. Lorenzo Dow, 45. First English camp-meeting, 46. Expulsion of Clowes and Bourne, 46. Primitive Methodists, 47. Women preachers, 47. Education of ministers, 48. Dr. Warren's opposition, 49. Expulsion, 51. Wesleyan Association, 51. James Everett and the Fly Sheets, 52. Methodist Free Church, 54. Joseph Cooke, of Rochdale, 55. His followers became Unitarian, 57. Sketch of Jabez Bunting, 58. Richard Watson, 59. Robert Newton, 60. Adam Clarke, 62. Influence of Wesley on Methodism, 65. Interpreted by Methodists too narrowly, and taken not at his best, but at his worst, 67.
Meyer, Dr. H. A. W., "Critical and Exegetical Handbook to Philippians and Colossians"—"to the Gospel of John," Vol. II., noticed, 328.
"Mind, a Quarterly Review," Nos. I. and II., noticed, 448.
MISCELLANEA THEOLOGICA: "Were the Jews satirized by Juvenal, Christians?" 296. "The Jewish Idea of Existence after Death, illustrated from Assyrian Mythology," 299. "The Conversion of the Apostle Paul," &c., 561.
MONOTHEISM IN ISRAEL, ITS NATURE AND DEVELOPMENT, 486. Interchange of thought useful, 486. Universalism and particularism coincident in Israel always, 487. By what stages did one emerge out of the other? 488. Two main points:

XUM

(1) the age of the documents, 488; (2) the bearing of their contents, 489. Hosea and Amos, 489. Zechariah, 489. Micah, 490. Samuel and Psalms, 491. Deuteronomy, 492. Question one of degree, 493. Dr. Kuenen's criticism upon Schultz, 494. The criticism criticised, 495. Parallel case of Baur and the New Testament, 497.

Muir, J., D.C.L., LL.D., "Religious and Moral Sentiments, metrically rendered from Sanscrit Writers," noticed, 317.

Noel, Hon. Roden, author of article, "Free Will and Responsibility," 366.

Norman Macleod, 274. The Western Highlands, 274. Macleod's birth and childhood, 275. University education, 276. At Weimar, 277. Minister of Loudoun, 278. The Disruption, 279. Macleod's position, 281. Minister of Dalkeith, 282. Evangelical Alliance, 283. The Barony, Glasgow, 284. Marriage, 285. Work in Glasgow, 286. Friendship with the Queen, 287. Popularity, 288. Good Words, 289. Frequent travel, 291. Sabbath question, 292. Visit to India, 294. Church policy and religious opinions, 295. Death and burial, 296.

Note on "Immortality and Religion," 150.

Oort, Dr. H., and Hooykaas, Dr. J., "The Bible for Young People," Vol. II., noticed, 146.

Osborn, R. D., "Islam under the Arabs," noticed, 454.

Paris, E., "C. M. A. Pellissier," reviewed, 153.

Paul, C. K., M.A., author of article, "Life of Bishop Gray," 70.

Pebody, C., "Prize Essay on the Disuse of the Athanasian Creed," noticed, 325.

Peirce, W., "Principles and Polity," reviewed, 45.

Philosophy without Assumptions, 226. Antagonism between religion and modern philosophical thought, 227. Mr. Kirkman's scrutiny of modern thought, 229. Hume, 230. Kant, 231. J. S. Mill, 232. Philosophy of Matter, 234. Dr. Lionel Beale on living matter, 235. Tyndall on ether, 236. Basis of Mr. Kirkman's philosophy, 238.

"Philosophy and its Foundations," noticed, 588.

Picciotto, J., "Sketches of Anglo-Jewish History," reviewed, 413.

Poynting, T. E., "History of Monton Chapel," noticed, 150. "Vocation of Unitarian Christians," noticed, 592.

Presbyter Anglicanus, author of article, "Philosophy without Assumptions," 226. "The Range of Christian Fellowship," 499.

Range of Christian Fellowship, the, 499. Value of Mr. Gleig's book in its intention, 499. Intolerance of liberal thinkers, 500. Necessity of hearty agreement among free thinkers, 501. "Spectator's" insistance on Incarnation and Resurrection, 503. Mr. Gleig's conception of the true evidence of Christianity, 507.

Reville, Albert, D.D., author of article, "A Liberal Preacher of the South of France," 153.

Russell, E. R., author of article, "The Religion of Shakspeare," 459.

Salmon, Edward, "The Parallel Gospels," noticed, 591. "Analysis of the Four Parallel Gospels," noticed, 591.

Samuelson, James, "The Natural Foundations of Religion," noticed, 327.

Sanday, W., M.A., "The Gospels in the Second Century," noticed, 320.

SANDAY, W., M.A., author of article, "The Nature and Development of Monotheism in Israel," 486.

SCHOPENHAUER, 395. Character of Miss Zimmern's book, 396. Leading ideas of Schopenhauer's philosophy, 397. His birth and parentage, 398. Gives up commerce, 399. Disagreement with his mother, 400. Misanthropy, 401. Had its root in his character, 402. Personal unamiability, 404. Conception of woman, 405. Literary works the creation of impulse, 407. His pessimism an essential part of his philosophy, 408. Conduct better than his theories, 410. Western interpreter of Buddhism, 412.

SHAKSPEARE, THE RELIGION OF, 459. Necessity of care and reticence, 460. General character of his religiousness, 460. His will, 461. A dramatist not bound to have any religion, 462. Religion and the stage, 463. Historico-dramatic spirit, 465. Rarely repulsive when treating of religion, 465. Examples of the religion of the theatre, 466. Shakspeare never pretends to be a saint, 467. Falstaff, 468. Probable religious influences of Shakspeare's youth, 469. Finds a soul of goodness everywhere, 471. Illustrative passages, 471 et seq. Hamlet, 478. Measure for Measure, 479. Macbeth, 481. Tempest, 482.

Sharpe, S., "The Journeys and Epistles of the Apostle Paul," noticed, 148. "Hebrew Inscriptions from the Valleys between Egypt and Mount Sinai," noticed, 573.

Shipley, O., M.A., "Ought we to obey the New Court?" noticed, 149.

Smith, R. B., M.A., "Mohammed and Mohammedanism," noticed, 452.

Smith, W., "Gravenhurst," noticed, 140.

SMITH, W. C., author of article, "Norman Macleod," 274.

SOLLY, H. S., M.A., author of article, "Schopenhauer," 395.

Southall, J. C., "The Recent Origin of Man," noticed, 130.

Stanley, A. P., D.D., "Lectures on the History of the Jewish Church," Third Series, noticed, 584.

Stevens, A., LL.D., "History of Methodism," reviewed, 45.

Stigand, W., "Life, Work and Opinions of Heinrich Heine," reviewed, 174.

Stirling, James, "The Stewardship of Life," noticed, 326.

Strodtmann, A., "H. Heine's Leben und Werke," reviewed, 174.

SUMMARY OF ECCLESIASTICAL EVENTS. Change of Judge in the Ecclesiastical Courts, 119. Attitude of Evangelicals, 120. St. Albans' Bishopric Bill, 120. Owston Tombstone case, 120, 303. Jenkins v. Cook, 121, 303. Denbigh Reredos, 121. Clergymen's address on Mr. Morgan's Burials' Bill, 121. Disestablishment campaign, 122. Exchange of pulpits between clergymen and Nonconformist ministers, 122. Wesleyan Conference, admission of laymen, 122, 570. Re-union Conference at Bonn, 124. Proposed formula of reconciliation between East and West, 124. Mr. Ridsdale's case, 302. Mr. Osborne Morgan's resolutions on Nonconformist burials, 304. British and Foreign Unitarian Association, 304. Lord Granville's resolutions on Dissenting burials, 566. Education measures, 567. Ritualistic prosecutions, 568. Athanasian Creed, 568. Perse Grammar-school, 569. Latin Fathers at Bristol, 569. Scottish Presbyterianism, 570. In England, 571. Affairs of French Protestant Church, 571.

TAYLER'S RETROSPECT OF THE RELIGIOUS LIFE OF ENGLAND, 201. The book a revelation of its author, 202. Dr. Martineau on the scope of the work, 205. Its comprehension of varying tendencies of thought, 205. Its method, 207. The English Church, 208. Her pretensions, 209. Her failure, 210. Hooker, 211. Puritanism, 212. Locke and Shaftesbury, 214. Christian comprehension, 215. Dr. Martineau's supplementary chapter, 216. High Church, 216. Broad Church, 217. Essays and Reviews—Bishop Colenso, 218. Ecce Homo, 219. Weakness of the Broad Church, 221. Free inquiry, 222. Christian Theism, 223. What prospect of comprehension? 225.

Tayler, J. J., B.A., "Retrospect of the Religious Life of England," reviewed, 201.

Theodorus, "The New Reformation," noticed, 139.

Upton, C. B., B.A., author of article, "Lord Amberley's Analysis of Religious Belief," 509.

Upton, C. B., B.A., "Free Teaching and Free Learning in Theology," noticed, 126.

Watson, Richard, "Works," reviewed, 45.

White, W., "Other-World Order," noticed, 326.

Whitfield, E., "Old Gems in a New Setting," noticed, 147.

Wicksteed, P. H., M.A., author of article, "Hilgenfeld's Introduction to the New Testament," II., 1.

Wilkins, N. S., M.A., "Errors and Terrors of Blind Guides," noticed, 326.

Willcock, J. W., Q.C., "The Scriptural Religions, &c., analyzed and examined," Vol. I., noticed, 590.

Williams, R., D.D., "Psalms and Litanies," Popular Edition, noticed, 592.

Women, the Fitness of, for the Ministry, 239. Two reasons for excluding women, 240. The bad, that is, the ascetic, 240. Paul's opinion of women, 242. Good reasons, 243. Inferior range of women's voices, 244. Difference between male and female fools, 245. Women less well educated, 246. Women teachers in heretical sects, 248. Teacher must be if possible both original and educated, 249. Answer to objections, 251. Actual work done by women in the conversion of Europe, 255. Possible effect of regular training, 257. Special aptitudes of women, 258. Finer sympathy, 259. Men and women as speakers, 260. Speculative sermons, 262. Ethical sermons, 263. The latter adapted for female preachers, 265. Women more ethically earnest than men, 266. Women speaking to women, 267. May not women be great spiritual teachers? 268. Women more loving, 269. Doctrine of the Motherhood of God, 272.

Yahveh and the "other gods," 329. Theory of Israel's religious development, 329. Is Israel an exception to the general analogy? 330. Ewald's view, 331. Oehler, Schultz, 332. Relation of the question to the date of the Elohistic document, 334. From an early period many Israelites worshiped other gods, 335. This inconsistent with absolute monotheism, 339. Was this admitted polytheism regarded as heretical? 339. A double series of texts, 340. Solution of Schultz, 342. Improbable, 343. Does not fully explain the facts, 344. The alternative solution, 347. Monotheism of the Deuteronomist, 348. Examination of passages cited in proof of early monotheism, 352. Heathen language about Yahveh, 358. Passages recognizing the existence of other gods, 360. Israel's monotheism an evolution from earlier monolatry, 362. Supposed revelations to Abraham and Moses only dogmatic assumptions, 365.

Zeller, E., "The Contents and Origin of the Acts of the Apostles," translated by J. Dare, noticed, Vol. I., 141. Vol. II., 456.

Ziegler, L., "Itala-Fragmente der Paulinischen Briefe," noticed, 442.

Zimmern, H., "Arthur Schopenhauer, his Life and Philosophy," reviewed, 395.

XUM

XUM